

The Twisted Fork Receives 2008 Maggy Awards

Rocky Top Hospitality Restaurant Wins Two Categories In Third Annual Cary Magazine Competition

[ClickPress, Fri Mar 14 2008] Dean Ogan, owner of Rocky Top Hospitality (www.rockytophospitality.com), has announced that The Twisted Fork Grill, Market and Bar (www.thetwistedfork.com) has received two write-in Maggy Awards for Best Bakery in Western Wake and Best Dessert. The Third Annual Maggy Award competition gave the community an opportunity to vote for the “Best Of” in over 80 categories. The 2008 Maggy Award winners will be featured in the January/February issue of Cary Magazine and on CaryMagazine.com. Located at Triangle Town Center in Raleigh, The Twisted Fork is a casual chophouse and bar featuring hand-tossed salads to soups, sandwiches, panini and mesquite and char-grilled meats, as well a fresh bakery and specialty market.

About Rocky Top Hospitality:

Rocky Top Hospitality has been devoted to improving Raleigh, North Carolina’s local dining scene since 1998, when their first restaurant opened. Michael Dean’s Wood Oven and Seafood Grill was the culmination of years of planning by Dean Ogan. Six other restaurants have now opened under the Rocky Top Hospitality name. New restaurants are always built from the menu-out, so the emphasis is always on the food and how to create an experience you can’t find anywhere else.
